Seniors to hold Christmas bazaar

If you're looking for a Christmas gift, head for the Romulus Towers where the seniors are holding their annual Christmas Bazaar. The bazaar will run on Dec. 9-10-11 from 10 a.m. until late afternoon.

There will be bake sales, handcrafted articles, and a white elephant table. For further information contact Dorothy Lalonde at 942-1775 or 942-1230.

Choir Christmas show is set

The Romulus High students will be staging a "Choir Christmas Show" at 7:30 p.m. today (Wed., Dec. 8) at the high school auditorium. There is no admission charge.

The director of the choir is Lois Munhachy.

Huron Goodfellows get job done

Russell Wilson, chairman of the Huron Township Goodfellows said today that his group went over the top this year.

"I would like to thank the residents of this township and everybody who helped for the success of the Goodfellows this year. I would specially like to thank the resident who donated 48 bushels of apples which will be given to the needy with their usual gift certificates," Russell said.

Among those who were recipients of Russells' and the Goodfellows' praise were Huron Township officials, the fire and police departments, auxiliary fire and police, the Rotary Club, Huron Sportsmen Club, Huron school officials and employees as well as all of the students.

Romulus seeks donations

In the meantime, Raymond Cantrell, chairman of the Romulus Goodfellows announced that his group collected "more than was expected from the sales of the Goodfellows' edition."

"However, because of the economy and with so many people out of work we suspect there is a greater need for aid than ever," Cantrell added. "Therefore, if we had missed someone who wishes to contribute, they should contact any member of the Goodfellows or call my office."

Cantrell serves as City Clerk. He may be reached by telephoning 941-0666.

Toxic waste heads for Van Buren

The toxic waste en route to Van Buren from Berlin & Ferro Liquid Incineration Co. chemical waste site near Flint "is definitely on hold."

That's the word from Van Buren Supervisor George Craven who is rallying state-wide and local support to detour the toxic shipment from its destination, the Wayne Disposal landfill in Van Buren.

"I am getting conflicting reports from the landfill owner and others," Craven said yesterday, "but we're going to fight this all the way. State Rep. Ed Mahalak and State Senator William Faust have been made aware of our feelings and they are helping us."

"We don't want that waste dumped here," Craven emphatically said.

On Saturday, township officials called an impromptu press conference to announce that they had learned about the shipment. They presented members of the press and TV with a press release which reads:

"We have recently learned of a proposal by the DNR (Department of Natural Resources) to deposit 11,000 cubic yards of a highly toxic substance in the Wayne Disposal Landfill. We have been informed that this material is designated C-56, which is highly volatile and emits toxic fumes at temperatures over 40 degrees Fahrenheit. The DNR representative stated that it can't even be transported, except at below freezing temperatures."

Mike Ferrantino, the owner of the landfill, apparently has signed a contract to accept the toxic waste from the Ferro Liquid Company. Craven said, however, "that he was receiving conflicting reports about the contract and is seeking more information."

The press release went on to call for help from Van Buren citizens. Citizens who want to help are asked to contact the township board offices at 699-2001. The press release continued:

"We violently oppose introducing this toxic material in a landfill situated within a one-mile radius that includes schools, a population of approximately 55,000 persons and lies alongside Interstate I-94."

"One human mishap in transportation, depositing and containing this substance could seriously endanger our citizens," the release added.

Monday night, the Belleville City Council, in a motion offered by council person Burma Wertz, supported Van Buren's actions.

It happens each Christmas

Little Jawan Russell probably will never forget Christmas of '82. That's because he got to meet Mayor William Oakley and turn on the lights on the huge Christmas tree which signalled in the Holiday Season in Romulus. After handing Jawan the key to the switch, Mayor Oakley and Jawan joined hundreds in greeting Santa — who arrived in a fire truck because of the lack of snow — and in singing Christmas carols.

Courts hold PCHA's $22 million in limbo

For at least the next two months, the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) board of directors will not be allowed to spend any of the $22 million it has accumulated in its funded depreciation account.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Michael Stacey on Nov. 26 ordered the continuation of an injunction barring the PCHA officials from spending the authority's surplus funds without the court's permission.

The injunction was issued earlier last month after Lincoln Park city officials filed a lawsuit against the PCHA because its directors refused to disperse the $22 million surplus to the authority's 24 member communities.

The Lincoln Park suit demands the elimination of the 4-mill property tax levy which funds the PCHA's operations, the return to the city of a portion of the surplus monies and payment for police and fire services the city provides for Outer Drive Hospital, one of the five health care facilities owned by the PCHA.

According to a PCHA spokesperson, the case will not come to trial before February, although no specific date has been selected.

Lincoln Park Mayor Charles Paddock said he was pleased by Stacey's continuation of the injunction. While he expressed optimism over the eventual success of the suit, Paddock vowed to appeal any adverse decision to a higher court.

According to Donald Pizzimenti, chairman of the PCHA board, what the Lincoln Park officials want would not be permitted by either the state law which established the hospital authority or the bonding ordinance under which the PCHA operates.

"We have reviewed the case, and our legal counsel has indicated that these are the kinds of issues that have been decided in our favor in previous court rulings," Pizzimenti said.

"We believe that, when the case is decided, the requests will be denied."

No major expenditures are anticipated for the next few months, he said, but the injunction has forced the authority to put on hold several projects to improve PCHA facilities.

Voters reject Romulus school tax proposals

The Romulus Community School Board and the school administration will have to find some other means, besides raising taxes, to keep the schools open this year. The voters on Monday sent a message to the schools by overwhelmingly voting down two proposals that would have raised taxes by a total of four mills in this community.

Voters defeated the two propositions by a 3-1 ratio. They said "no" to a 3-mill levy needed for the operation of the school system, according to school officials. The proposal went down 1,482-509.

The second levy urged voters to approve a 1-mill package for school maintenance. That proposal was defeated 1,459 to 498.

Only one precinct put its stamp of approval on both propositions, and that was in the Merriman School area. Absentee voters voted against the 3-mills 267-56 and voted 255-64 against the one mill increase.

Romulus presently levies 39.90 mills (a mill is $1 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property).

School officials and school board members were dismayed over the outcome of the election.

"We're sorry and disappointed that the millage failed," said Don Bales, President of the School Board. "However, we have to recognize the hard times that our community, as well as the rest of the nation, is facing."

"Hopefully, we will find an alternative solution for our money and funding problems, but realistically, prospects do not appear favorable at this time."

Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, said the vote was the last chance to levy the millage this year.

"Therefore," Dr. Bedell continued, "this means that the pay freeze which has been in effect for all non-teaching employees for the last two to three years will stay in effect, as will the recent 14 percent teacher salary rollback."

"And, although we understand the mass unemployment that Romulus residents are suffering through, we felt we had to ask them for these increases so that in the future they would understand our predicament. They have charged us with the responsibility of running

8 seeking supervisor position

Who'll be the next Huron Township supervisor?

That's the question township board members will have to answer within 45 days or the question will go to the voters. They'll have eight prominent names to select from, including former trustees and the present township clerk.

The vacancy occurred when Richard F. Sullivan won election to the 21st district House of Representatives seat. Sullivan had been supervisor for little more than a year-and-a-half before he decided to seek the House seat.

Seeking to fill the vacancy are: Eugene Perecki, a local businessman; Christine S. Gamber, current township treasurer; John Pusar, a trustee on the board and an ex-supervisor; A. J. Haener, former township trustee and present chairman of the Planning Commission. (Haener was defeated by 10 votes for the supervisor's job in the last election.)

Also seeking the position are Karalee Finlin, a teacher of accounting who has extensive auditing and accounting background and education; Mary Lou Carey, who has served as township clerk since 1971 and views herself as "only a compromise candidate"; and Pauline Herring, who is an unemployed resident of the township.

Mrs. Carey pointed out that the township board has 45 days in which to act and find a candidate and if the members of the board can't reach a decision, then a special election would be conducted to fill the vacancy.

State Audit

Where does city go from this point?

By Edward Mahalak,
State Representative

The audit for the City of Romulus is now a matter of public record.

The State Treasurer's office has completed its findings and recommendations. These have been forwarded to the Attorney General for review. The Attorney General will refer the audit to two sections in his office: the Criminal Section, and the Civil Section. The Assistant Attorney Generals will then review and make their recommendations to Frank Kelley.

The request for an audit became perfectly clear during several meetings with city officials when admitting of co-mingling of funds, misappropriations, improper transfers of these funds in handling the water and sewer bonded debt for the City of Romulus.

Act 2, Public Acts of 1968 is very specific: "Sec. 11. If any audit or investigation conducted under this act discloses statutory violations on the part of any officer, employee or board of any local unit, a copy of such report shall be filed with the attorney general who shall review the report and cause to be instituted such proceedings against such officer, employee or board."

The attorney general, within 60 days after receipt of the report, may institute criminal proceedings as he deems necessary against such officer or employee, or direct that the criminal proceedings be instituted by the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed.

The attorney general or the prosecuting attorney shall institute civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of any public monies, disclosed by any examination to have been illegally expended or collected and not accounted for; also for the recovery of any public property disclosed to have been converted and misappropriated."

The audit, as completed by the State Treasurer's office speaks for itself. In my opinion, the findings are on the mark, clearly demonstrating the violations of state statutes over the years and continuing up to the present time. The sad part of all of this is, "Where are we now?" Must we, as taxpayers, continue to pay for water and sewer bond issues over and above what the law clearly states that which is to be collected and how used? Must we, as Romulus property owners and taxpayers, move to step one and pay again what should have been paid off?

We must now wait until the Attorney General completes his review. I think this audit proves one thing... we all are responsible in dealing with tax dollars.

Santa's helpers

ting the finishing touches on the decorations, the DPW will have the job of hanging them in New Boston and Waltz. The Huron Applefest Committee purchased the material to construct the colorful figures with proceeds from the festival.

Belleville finally has a victory at Victory Park

Park Commissioners to make improvements

After more than three years of negotiations with the Wayne County Road Commission the City of Belleville has received a ten-year lease on Victory Park.

During those three years the city has mowed the grass and picked up the trash in the park but has been unable to put up the swings and teeter-totters that were locked in the comfort station.

Belleville and its Park Commission now look forward to replacing picnic tables, swings, teeter-totters and making other improvements for the summer season of 1983.

Money for these projects will come from the treasury of the Park Commission using donated funds left over from the development of Horizon Park and from a Federal Block Grant received by the City of Belleville.

No local taxes have gone into the development of the parks.

Margaret Hope in 1955 wrote a brief history of Belleville for Belleville's Golden Anniversary. In the booklet, she wrote, "The Park and Playground Association was organized by a group of ladies backed by the business men, community and later the village council with Mrs. May W. Alban as President, Mrs. Mina D. Mulreed, vice-president, Mrs. Mayme Hulett, secretary and Mrs. Cora A. Day, treasurer. Funds

Santa Claus is in town

'People are beautiful'

It didn't rain or snow on Belleville's annual Christmas Parade. And the weatherman cooperated when Romulus held its traditional Christmas Tree lighting ceremonies Friday night. Although the weather took a turn for the worse on Saturday evening, Huron Township still managed to draw the crowds to the Township Hall for its annual Christmas Carol and Tree Lighting ceremonies.

And, no matter how he arrived, Santa was a welcome sight to see. The children stood in awe and the folks were "plain happy to see that the man from the North Pole is well and safe." If only he could do something about the economy, then all would be well with the State of the Union.

Belleville and Van Buren children (and their parents, too) are reminded that Santa has set up his workshop in the center of town on Main Street.

He will be there to chat with all the children every Saturday and Sunday until Christmas from noon to 3 p.m.

Romulus children may send their "Letters to Santa" by dropping them into the special box in front of the Romulus Library, 11111 S. Wayne Road. And, if they include a stamped, self-addressed envelope, Santa will send them a letter in return.

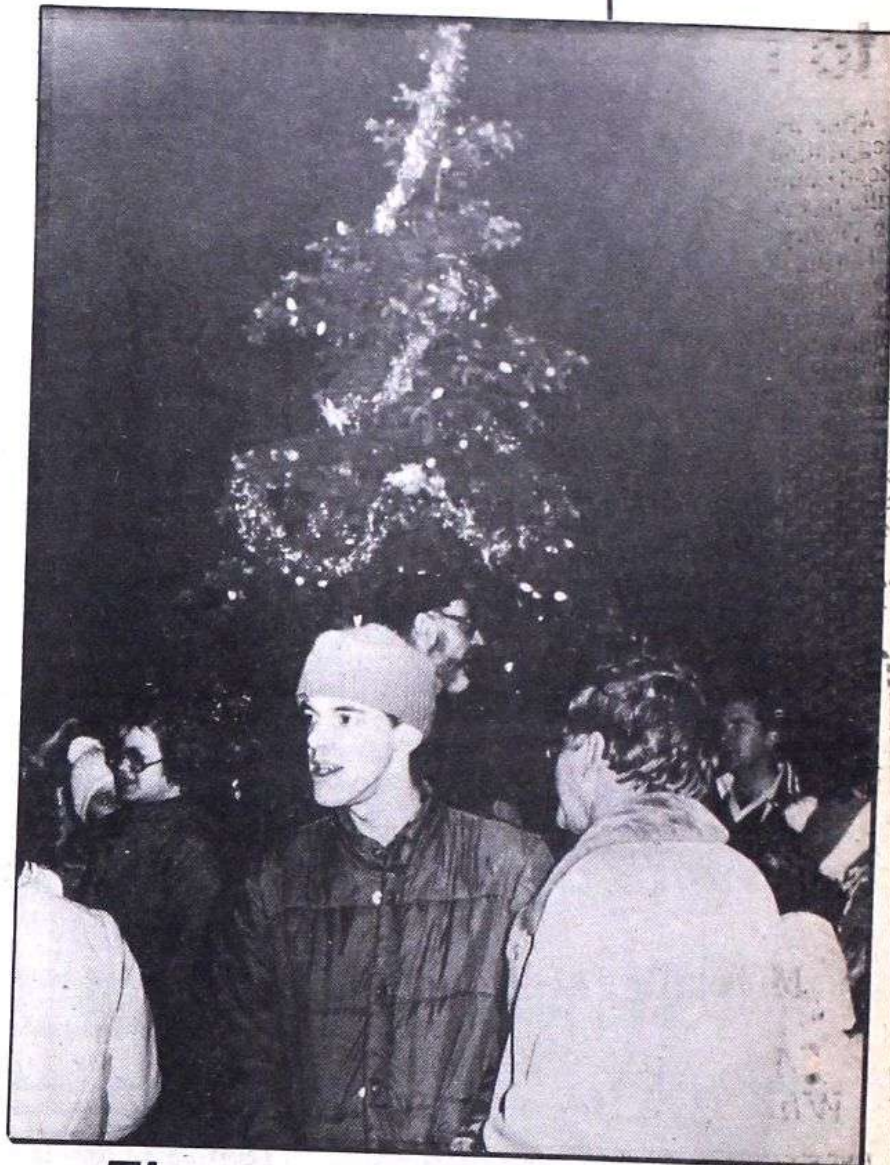

And, we know we're speaking for everyone when we say — "Welcome Santa, we've waited a whole year for you."

Ho! Ho! Ho!

Children have waited a year to get re-acquainted with the Jolly Ole Man from the North Pole who was very busy in the area over the weekend. Santa came to the Township of Huron on Saturday and was greeted by a large crowd of residents and children who wondered "where the reindeer and snow were?" "Back at the North Pole," replied Santa who handed out treats to these Huron Township children.

The world is wonderful

The honor of turning on the beautiful display of Christmas ornaments and lights in Huron Township Saturday night went to Tim Chihan (center) who discusses the colorful display with his father, John, (standing alongside). A large crowd of township folks turned out for the annual Christmas Tree lighting ceremonies and all went away a bit happier that they did.

The carolers

Leading the holiday season greetings and the caroling during Romulus' impressive Christmas Tree lighting ceremonies Friday night were councilman Junior Block (from left), Nita Lane, Dennis Davison, parks and recreation director, Gayle Mack, Mayor William Oakley. At the organ is Gerald Hogan, administrative assistant to the mayor and the city's grantsman. Hundreds of children were on hand to greet Santa in Romulus who used a fire engine instead of his reindeer to make the trip from the North Pole.

'...And have you been good?'

Center attraction and usually the only attraction at Christmas time is Santa Claus who arrived in Romulus with a lot of fanfare as city officials and employees, residents and children turned out to greet him. This shy child appears a bit bashful as Santa asks: "What do you want for Christmas"? Well...

Where's Rudolph?

With no snow on the ground, Santa had to come to town, Huron Township that is, in a wagon pulled by a horse. The reception was great as Mrs. Andrea Chadwick handled the reins and her daughter, Lisa, assists, to make sure Santa isn't late for his appointments. The kids loved it and the unseasonal weather apparently didn't stop everyone from having a wonderful time.

$22 million in limbo

"I don't think we'll be hindered in our day-to-day operations," Pizimenti said. "The court will not make it impossible for us to pay our bills or meet our contractual obligations."

The controversy over the PCHA's funding broke out last summer when it was reported that the authority had accumulated a surplus of some $22 million.

After efforts to have the authority return the money to member communities failed, the board of directors in October voted to trim the property tax from .4 mill to .2 mill for the 1983-84 fiscal year.

Among the PCHA communities are Wayne, Westland, Belleville, Romulus, Inkster, Sumpter Township and Van Buren Township.

In addition to Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park, the authority owns and operates Annapolis in Wayne, Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, Heritage in Taylor and Seaway in Trenton.

Tax

the schools. And we will do the best we can.

"We're going to take a good look at the budget for the second semester and do some planning for the next year, but if the court orders us to restore the teacher's salaries we unfortunately will have to shorten the school year," Bedell concluded.

The teachers in the district have gone to court to challenge the legality of the recent rollback.

Where's Santa Claus

Anxiously awaiting the arrival of the jolly old man from the North Pole who usually makes his debut in the area at these times is this group of Romulus children. The children and their parents took part in the city's annual Christmas Tree lighting and carolling ceremonies held last Friday. Hundreds enjoyed a perfect night and sang Christmas songs while waiting for Santa who didn't disappoint them. Only the absence of snow, which the weatherman says we'll receive this week, was the children's cause of concern, and the delight of most of the adults. The city provided donuts and coffee (hot chocolate to the kids) and all, as the saying goes, had a merry good time.

$22.4 or $66.8 million in debt

How deep is county deficit?

Although an independent audit ordered by the State shows Wayne County with a deficit about three times that calculated by county auditors, the principals involved agree that the discrepancy is due mainly to a difference in accounting systems.

County auditors place the county $22.4 million in debt, compared to the $66.8 million figure released last week by the Ernst & Whinney accounting firm after six months of studying county records. The Ernst & Whinney report, however, points out that $41 million in their report represents an adjustment of county books to a new accounting basis.

In the Ernst & Whinney examination, a method called "modified accrual" was used which estimates future county revenue and debt, whereas the county has used a "cash-flow" system in which income and expenditure is recorded only as it occurs. Most of the higher debt figure is calculated from unpaid vendor bills, money owed the State and pending costs for pension funds and judgments due from lawsuits.

The independent audit was ordered by the State Treasurer after state accountants claimed the county's books were "inauditable." But Albert Koch, a managing partner of Ernst & Whinney said the firm encountered no surprises nor any errors in its examination. "There was nothing of significance that we couldn't reconcile," said Koch.

County Budget Director Constantine Stathos said the audit merely shows "a different way of examining the books, not a discovery of new debts. There is nothing there that we didn't already know about."

County Board Chairman Samuel A. Turner said, "The deficit is still essentially what we have believed. It's just that the new debt figure was determined by a more up-to-date method that we are converting to."

Stathos said that the State is providing funds for cost of the conversion, otherwise the County would have switched to the modified accrual system some time ago.

The audit was conducted only for operations administered by the Board of Commissioners and does not include funds nor spending controlled by the County Drain Commissioner, Road Commission or Department of Public Works. Ernst & Whinney was commissioned by the County auditors in February to conduct the audit for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1981, and next summer will report findings from an audit of the fiscal year just ended on Nov. 30, 1982.

Romulus police have no suspects in homicide

Romulus police intensified their search this week for suspects and a motive in a fire they say was deliberately set and claimed the life of a 19-year-old woman.

The fire occurred on Nov. 26 at approximately 11:30 p.m. in the Royal Village Trailer Park at 6027 Metro. Romulus fire officials found Lori Lea O-Bryant, 19, who was living at the trailer camp with a friend, dead at the scene.

Romulus police said that there were two other persons in the dwelling when the fire erupted. One, a 9-year-old girl, was led to safety by an elderly babysitter.

The trailer had been occupied by a Laura Walker, who was not at home at the time of the fatal blaze.

"We do not have any suspects or motives for this fire-homicide said Romulus police officer Sam Chalton who is one of two local officers assigned to the case. Heading the investigation is Det. Sgt. David Early.

According to the police a flammable liquid had been used to set the trailer on fire. The three occupants had been asleep at the time and the babysitter, a friend of Ms. Walker's, awoke in time to arouse the child and get her out of the dwelling. He told police that he wasn't aware that Ms. O'Bryant was inside.

"He thought that the victim had also left," officer Chalton said. "We didn't know that there was anyone in the trailer until the fire officials went through the debris. That building was completely destroyed."

Cause of Ms. O'Bryant's death is listed as smoke inhalation. According to police her body had been burned beyond recognition.

Anyone who has any information pertaining to this case should contact Officer Chalton or Det. Sgt. Early at 941-8400.

Meeting their favorite Piston, Guard Isiah Thomas, are (from left): Scott Galbreath, 11, Clawson; Jason Hamlett, 6, Detroit and Satonya Smith, 11, Inkster. Each of the children had the opportunity to visit the Piston locker room and each was given an autographed basketball and four reserved seat tickets to the Detroit Pistons-Golden State Warriors basketball game as winners in the McDonald's "Meet Your Favorite Piston" Contest. They also were introduced on the public address system during the game. One winner is being selected from each participating McDonald's in the great metropolitan area. Scott represents the McDonald's at 1200 Livernois, Troy; Jason represents the McDonald's at 8225 E. Jefferson, Detroit and Satonya Smith represents the McDonald's at 25660 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn Heights.

Finally - victory at Victory Park

were donated by the business men and community in general and the triangular piece of ground at Five Points was purchased from Mrs. Kate Clark. The property was formerly owned by Frank Burt.

"The Park was dedicated in honor of our boys who went to World War I and was named Victory Park. Mrs. Alban was the first and last president and original promoter of the project and the association was dissolved in March, 1928. In February, 1925, it was leased for ninety-nine years to Wayne County Road Commission. . . ."

Shortly thereafter the Wayne County Road Commission was given a deed to the property. When the park was closed over three years ago, Belleville began negotiations for control of the park. The first request was for the Road Commission to deed the property back to Belleville. They refused. Later they offered a lease to the City which was flawed in several respects. The wording would have required Belleville to keep the comfort station open 24-hours each day, which they never did and the city couldn't do. The lease also would require the city to operate the park according to their regulations. With a city park ordinance in place that wasn't satisfactory.

Finally the city wrote a lease incorporating the requirements that Belleville wanted. After several months of delay the lease was approved by the Road Commission.

The development of Horizon Park was begun in 1976 as part of the Centennial Celebration, with donated funds. The land was wasteland along High Street from Edison Street to the water tower. The soil was prepared and seeded with grass.

Trees, bushes and other plantings were added by a landscaping company. Benches were installed throughout the park and an underground sprinkling system installed, the work done by volunteer labor.

The cost of the city is mostly for sprinkling and grass mowing with some of the labor at grass mowing time by public service people at no cost to the City.

Standards for urban development call for one acre of park facilities for each 900 persons. Victory Park's 1.8 acres plus Horizon Park's 0.7 acres still puts the City 1.25 acres below the 3.75 acres the City should have.

The National Recreation Association standard adds open space and green belts to parks and requires ten acres per one thousand persons. Belleville should have 34 acres of recreational space to meet that standard.

Life in Pioneer America

What was life in America like during the times of the pioneers? The fourth graders at Elwell Elementary School received a glimpse of the period through a project organized by their teacher Melissa Costello whose students constructed a Pioneer Village for Social Studies. The Pioneer Village included a hotel, roads, log cabins, farms and a town square. The village dignitaries included a sheriff, deputy sheriff, and a mayor. A special feature of the village was a rodeo. Participating in the special project are Greg Patton (from left), Melody Brunty, Mrs. Costello, Linda Pasek and Eric Holshoe.

In math competition finals

Belleville students seek state honors

Three Belleville High School students finished in the top 6 percent of the 28th annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition and are among the approximately 1,000 Michigan students who will compete in the final examination today (Dec. 8).

Belleville High School math students who qualified for the second test are: Ken Eccles, a senior and the son of Ralph and Yvonne Eccles, 9445 Van Buren, Belleville; Steve Eissinger, senior, son of Ramon and Diane Eissinger, 44290 Willis, Belleville, and Galen Kenyon, senior, whose parents are Sylvester and Elinor Kenyon, of 8547 Moms Drive, also Belleville.

The competition is sponsored by the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of American and is designed to foster a wider interest in mathematics, to focus attention on the necessity for mathematical training in most professions and trades, and to identify and provide scholarships for capable mathematics students in the state.

The 100 winners of the competition will be honored at the Awards program to be held at Alma College, Alma, on Sat., Feb. 26, 1983 with half of the winners receiving college scholarships.

These scholarships totaled $14,950 in last year's competition. The competition funds include contributions from the Burroughs Corporation, Michigan Bell, Kuhlman Corporation, and the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Beverly Polcyn, math teacher, has served as the high school supervisor for Belleville High Students competing in the examination.

Elwell pupils learn rescue breathing

Pupils in the 6th grade at Elwell Elementary School learned a lesson last week that someday may save someone's life. The lesson was in rescue breathing.

Lewis Ratkiewicz, manager of the Cardio-pulmonary Unit at Beyer Hospital, and Dan Noe, supervisor of the same unit, were on hand to present techniques and answer questions. The students then repeated the method, using two "Annie" practice manikins.

The demonstration was part of a unit in First Aid being presented by teacher Carl Marosi. The unit began with a lesson on blood typing. Each student had the opportunity to determine both the type of blood they have, and its RH factor.

Several parents aided in the lesson including Larry Vitale, a Medical Technologist at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Several nurses also helped including: Mrs. Debbie Vitale, Mrs. Karen Carlson, Mrs. Wyn Ann Marosi, and Mrs. Goldie McClure. Also helping was Lloyd McClure.

"We also had a visit from the Taylor Ambulance Company that was designed to teach the children the next step in the rescue process," said Marosi. "At the conclusion of the unit, each student who has successfully completed the lessons will receive their Basic First Aid Card."

The books for instruction of the class were purchased last year by the Elwell PTO.

Mida completes course

Herbert Mida, 44960 Robson Rd., Belleville, was one of 18 persons who successfully completed Michigan's fifth Electrical Inspectors' Training Program held at the Michigan State Police Training Academy in Lansing.

The intensive two-week course was sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors, in cooperation with the Fire Marshall Division, Department of Michigan State Police, and the Electrical Industry.

Carlton D. Trouteaud, Secretary of the I.A.E.I. Michigan Chapter, stated that the association and many state authorities recognize the need for highly qualified electrical inspectors throughout Michigan and that, eventually, all electrical inspectors in the state will have an opportunity to enroll in the course.

The subjects include National Electrical Code adoption, legal liabilities, court procedures, electrical fundamentals, fire science and fire behavior, and procedures involving electric utilities.

Trouteaud indicated that the next training program, which will be limited to 35 active electrical inspectors within the State of Michigan, is scheduled for the Fall of 1983.

our opinions

Toxic waste — leave it in Flint

We just can't understand why the Department of Natural Resources continues to pick on Van Buren. This rustic community, reeling from a recent recall of its township officials and trying to stand upright, has another major controversy on its hands.

The DNR leaked out that there is a proposal to dump some 11,000 cubic yards of highly toxic waste in the landfill Michael Ferrantino made famous (or infamous), the Wayne Disposal.

Obviously Van Buren Township residents and neighboring communities are not going to stand for — or stand by — while that poison seeps into the ground. Or clay. Or whatever they purport will be used to "contain" the substance.

It's easy for an editorial writer to get a lot of "brownie points" by backing the local residents and the taxpayers. And we are backing them with each and every pica to fight to the end on this one.

We can understand the residents. We can identify with that fight.

What we can't understand is why do they have to drag the poison all the way from the Flint area and dump it in our backyards? If they manufacture the waste there, then let those who approved the manufacture and reap the benefits of the taxes also reap the benefits of the waste.

This is not the first time (and apparently won't be the last time unless residents and the township board stand up and be counted), that Van Buren has been singled out for the waste. Last year a similar incident occurred and the officials fought and won. The waste was taken somewhere in Ohio.

Let us suggest that Berlin & Ferro, the manufacturers of the toxic substance, find the map to Ohio again and drive it all the way — what did you say, Mr. Schembechler — dump it on Ohio State?

No, we wouldn't even suggest that.

Goodfellows—true spirit of Christmas

They say that Christmas is a time for giving. It is a time when the Christian world is usually at Peace with one another; when the fortunate extend their arms to the less fortunate.

It is a time of home. Of family. Of the Birth of Jesus Christ.

And this year, more and more people are beginning to realize that "we can't go it alone". That helping one another is what it's all about.

The Goodfellows will tell you that there are a lot of people who need help. And they have been on the streets, soliciting funds so that not only will "No Child will be without a Christmas" but no man, woman or family will know loneliness at a time in need.

Thousands are out of work. And there is little hope that the economy will turn around. Yet, people, when stopped and asked to contribute through the purchase of a Goodfellow Newspaper, do so willingly.

Ask Russell Wilson, Goodfellow chairman in Huron Township. That organization not only met its goal, but surpassed it this year.

"It's unbelievable, at a time when almost everybody is hurting, that people can still dig deep into their pockets and come up with something," Wilson says. "I don't know how to thank them."

And Raymond Cantrell, head of the Goodfellows in Romulus, will tell you:

"We didn't think we would even come near our goal this year. Obviously with so many people out of work, there's going to be a greater demand for help, so we had to set our sights higher. But, do you know what? People are responding. They're wonderful, and tell them for us: "God bless them."

And to all of the Goodfellows — In Sumpter, Belleville, Van Buren, Wayne, Westland, Inkster and Canton. Goodfellows, we thank you.

ABC's of our schools

Here is something I thought those involved in our schools would like to glance at. It's called the "ABC's" of Our School Systems."

A = Accountability on all levels, where did it go?

B = Business Management, if our schools were run by Business Oriented persons, perhaps many of us wouldn't be operating in deficit.

C = Caring for the children, this country's greatest asset. Let's stop selling them short. They deserve our best.

D = Derelict in our responsibility to provide the quality education our children deserve. This we've done through inept administration, unfair distribution of State Aid Funds, through poorly interpreted legislation of State Aid Funds, through poorly interpreted legislation regarding the distribution.

E = Equality in Education. Nonsense! Most colleges have lowered their admission standards to accommodate our high school grads. A great percentage of our children can't read, let alone write the English language. Ask a Banker, today's graduates are unable to manage the balancing and maintenance of a checking account, which is part of everyday living in our adult world.

F = Federally Funded Projects, despite the recent cut-backs, the administrators of these funds break their necks to expend every dollar of their grant, so as not to have to return any funds not expended during the fiscal year, while General Education is incapable, due to lack of funds, to provide the much needed text materials for Basic education. Disgraceful!

G = General Funds, out of which the bulk of a schools operation is expended. In many districts, these areas of expense are running in deficit.

The salaries of the many overpaid administrators, and teachers, are paid out of these funds, as are all school wages. And let us not forget the teachers. Do you know of any other profession where you only work for 185 days out of 365, and can earn as much as upper-middle income management persons have to work on the average of 260 days plus per year, and usually 8 to 10 hours a day to make that kind of money. And these teachers continue to ask for more!

H = Help is what our school systems need. As politicians, parents, teachers, and all other segments of society, it is our duty to help our schools get back to educating our children.

I = Irreplaceable is every child that is allowed to slip through the system without every advantage given to him or her to provide the education so necessary to co-exist in our society.

J = Justice is served when we have done all we can to help a child realize his individual potential through education.

K = Kindergarten, from the German words meaning "Garden of Children". That glorious, wondrous first year of our education process. What has happened to that garden as the children travel through the maze of the next twelve years? The flowers that once were heads held high in anticipation of learning, have become the many disillusioned wilting flowers of young adulthood, trying to figure out how and where they've been. Sad!

L = Learning, isn't that what education is supposed to be about?

M = Mathematics, the subject that is the prerequisite of today's High-technology. And on a national level, we are deficient in providing fully qualified teachers in this area.

N = Needs which must be met if we are to save our world through out future generations. This need can only be met through quality education. Without it we are destined to fail.

O = Onward and upward. Let's make it our goal. Put aside the politics and get on with providing a more qualitative education for the children.

P = People, the world is full of people, and the better education they are on all levels of society, the better this world will be to live and work.

Q = Quality, the word we need to put back into education, its teachers, administrators, a priority that has been on the back burner for too long.

R = Reading, Writing, Arithmetic. The three R's. More emphasis is needed in these subjects. Our future depends on it!

S = Sports, reserved for the elite few. Let's give this area less importance and give more Calisthenics to the mind.

T = Tomorrow, that for which we educate the children. Let's begin to better prepare them for those "Tomorrows".

U = Urgency is of the essence. We must unite ourselves on all levels of education, and vote unanimously to "Improve our Schools".

V = Victory is what we will achieve if we take a long look at the ABC's as I have written, and turn it around to a more positive system. We can do it!

W = Winning is what it's all about. A good education for all, means everyone wins at the game of life.

XYZ = Let's say YES to our children's education, giving that X-TRA ounce of effort with a ZEALOUSNESS never before exercised. And all for the CHILDREN, let us pray we never forget our responsibility to them.

The letter was unsigned

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

Unfortunately the letter-writer didn't sign his (or was it her?) letter. Those kinds of communications from our reading public are usually slammed into the nearest waste paper basket.

But in this restless life, tireless writers always look to the street gamin to provide the unique, and the information provided in the unsigned letter brought to light some of the concerns residents have about government. The lack of it, that is.

Although mid-winter, this letter-writer recalls — and we'll use some of the words from the letter: "I remember the 'Summer of '81' when I spent half of the hot days under the sun instead of in the water. The first few days were a nightmare. They tore up the Municipal Swim Pool. Men and machines were tearing up a deck. Then, out with the old, in with the new: pipes at the peoples' expense. Meanwhile many people, mostly children, anxiously waited for relief from the hot summer sun. "That relief never came."

The long swimming season, apparently was a very short one for the letter-writer.

"Unfortunately, near the end of the summer, the doors were opened to the pool. The water turned dirty, so dirty that sand collected on the bottom; pieces of hair, bugs and other dirt rested in the corners. Now who would want to swim in that kind of pool?"

"A New Year came, and another hot summer heated this land and the same people went to the water, but the doors were closed. 'Bad plumbing'. 'Not enough money' they said. They also realized that since the doors were closed half a year, only a fraction of the money could have been collected from a full year."

The anonymous letter-writer points out:

"It was also funny that this had to happen after the voters rejected a wave pool that would have enough surrounding seats to hold 60,000 people. Why do we need it? That kind of building would've cost the taxpayers an arm and a leg. It was also funny that the Westland Pool opened in 1982 and we have to ask our neighbors for permission to go swimming in their backyard, and you know what problems that will cause."

"The reason why I am writing this letter is I hope the good City Fathers of Wayne, even though the temperatures are nearer the freezing point, will think summer and think about us kids."

"Please fix the pool so that we can go swimming when the weather warms up. And, would you, please editor, print this letter so that they will know how we feel?"

I'm sorry I can't. You didn't sign your name.

"Why do school boards ask us for money that we don't have?"

That was the question one of the callers posed to us last week before the residents went to the polls and overwhelmingly rejected tax increases in Romulus.

There is also little doubt in my mind that Westwood voters will also turn their backs on their board's request for money for school maintenance and operation.

I wonder how people think schools are going to function? Or liquid gas? But that's getting off the subject.

Why do they continue to ask for money that isn't there? One school official offered this answer: "If we don't push the panic button, everyone thinks everything is all right. That's far from the case. They elected us to run their schools. We have an obligation and responsibility to do the job and we need money to do the job right. The millage proposal is our message to the entire community."

Schools say teacher is certified

EDITOR—Managing Editor's Tom Mooradian's recent "Other Side of the Meridian" column labeled "When a Child is Special" regarding a Romulus teacher and the district's Special Education program warrants a response. It is indeed regrettable that we were not consulted prior to the publication as we could have corrected the misinformation printed beforehand.

First of all, the issue doesn't really concern a teacher's right to talk to parents. Indeed we do, in fact, strongly encourage teachers to be conversant with parents. On the otherhand, we are rightly concerned about the accuracy of information given to parents, as we are with your article.

From the onset, let me state that all teachers in Romulus Schools, including Mrs. Martin, are properly certified to teach in their present assignment.

Specifically, in Mrs. Martin's case you stated that she is not certified to teach special education, which is not so. Mrs. Martin, in fact, was originally hired as a Special Education Teacher in Romulus Schools in 1969 and was so assigned until 1974. At that time, at her request, she was reassigned to teach English and Social Studies at the Junior High School. Last year she was returned to the Special Education Department. Mrs. Martin disagreed and initiated a series of administrative and legal challenges to her assignment to the Wayne County Intermediate School District and the Michigan Department of Education, both of which concurred that she was properly certified to teach special education classes. Mrs. Martin then filed a lawsuit again challenging the district's right to so assign her.

The court never issued a decision since the case was settled when Mrs. Martin agreed to acknowledge that while she disagreed with her assignment both the county and the state approved it.

Finally, we too agree that all children and especially those who are emotionally impaired and otherwise handicapped should be taught by teachers who are properly certified and trained in the area that they are teaching and maintain that in Romulus Schools this is so.

Firefighters receive praise

Editor—After the fire at the Village Green apartment complex several people wrote in to The Associated Newspapers. In these letters were words of praise for the Van Buren police officers who helped with evacuation and for the American Red Cross that helped the victims. They deserve the praise, but so do the men of the Van Buren Township Fire Department.

Without them there would have been many more homeless people.

A few of the onlookers seemed to think that the firemen were not doing their job well enough. Well, I highly doubt that those people could do better. There were two buildings lost but there would have been more if it wasn't for the V.B.T.F.D.

Parents are getting involved

EDITOR—We would publicly like to thank the many parents and the friends of Inkster High School who attended our Parent-Teacher Conference held recently. We would like to also thank The Associated Newspapers for the excellent coverage provided the event.

Parents, your response to our call was overwhelming, and a positive indication that you and other adult members of the community are genuinely interested in the growth and development of your children.

Your record breaking attendance showed that you believe in the principle that children are entitled to an education, and that you are devoted to helping us provide an environment that is conducive for excellence.

The faculty and staff join me in thanking you, and we look forward to your continued support.

Please protect our wildlife

EDITOR—I have several reasons for loving and respecting animals, but I have a particular concern for wildlife. Most people just don't realize how significant it is to man.

One significance, of course, is aesthetic value. Wildlife and its environment is indeed beautiful. A beautiful environment is stimulating. We can be proud that Michigan contains some species that occur nowhere else in the world. They are precious parts of our states' natural heritage.

However, many of our natural communities contain rare and endangered plant and animal species. It is important that we protect the finest remaining areas. Once destroyed, Michigan's natural areas cannot be fully restored.

Effects on human beings extend far beyond aesthetic values. Each wildlife species occupies a special niche in its ecosystem and plays a unique role. Loss of one species can affect all the other organisms with which it interacts. For example, mice depend on plants for food, rabbits eat mice, fox hunt rabbits, and man hunts fox.

Each species contain unique genetic material that cannot be retrieved if lost. Scientists have investigated some species to determine possible benefits to mankind in the form of medicines, industrial, and agricultural uses. For example, the drug penicillin is derived from the fungus Penicillium. Tropical plants are also being used in a variety of drugs that may be used to treat people for cancer and other ailments. Therefore, if we allow any endangered species to become extinct, we may be depriving ourselves of possible important discoveries.

There are more reasons why wildlife should be saved, but man will benefit in the end. By preserving wildlife species, we may even be preserving the species of man. I am grateful that there are many programs and laws aimed at protecting wildlife. Endangered means there is still time. I don't want to lose any of our precious wildlife. What about you?

people you recommend, presumably qualifying them for the office which they seek, however, involvement in the PTA; living in the community; interest in the community; spearheading recall elections; watchdog nature and deep interest in decisions made in the school district, etc., are not qualifications at all but are interests being fulfilled by these people.

None of those who are running for the office they are seeking have the proper qualifications to be a board member, because running a school district is big business and we need educated managers with experience to do the job, not people who want to justify their political ambitions, or the housewife who is all-fired up over school problems or the preacher who 'thinks' he can do the job because of some God-given right.

Thanks go to
'miracle-makers'

EDITOR—On Fri., November 26, Canton had its own "Miracle on Canton Center Road".

Nearly 400 children, plus parents and other family members, were on hand to sing Christmas carols and greet Santa when he came to Canton.

Jim Poole, Township Supervisor, presented the key to the Township (which also represented the hearts of the children) to Santa.

We wish to thank the parents for bringing their children and making this endeavor so successful and rewarding. The look on the faces of the little people makes it all worthwhile.

A big thank you to the following merchants for their donations: Bob Card & McDonald's - Hot chocolate, coffee, coloring books and manpower; Dr. Jack Falvo, Willow Creek Dental - Toothbrushes; Burger King - balloons; Country Place Feed Store - pencils; Wayne Bank - pens and key rings; Kroger's of Canton - cookies; Reynold's Chiropractic Clinic - suckers; Meijer's Thrifty Acres - Donuts; T. Materyn - creation and rental of elf costumes; Daisy's Don't Tell - rental of elf costume.

Special thanks to the Elves: Terri Lee Koers, Linda Knivila, Laial Dahr and Laura Koers. The girls helped organize, lead the children in song and passed out the favors. They added a special touch of joy.

Santa was escorted to Meijer's to the Santa Trailer to visit with more children. Gene "Santa" Reeves was his escort.

John Sherwin of the Canton Police Department was to be our helicopter pilot to bring Santa, but due to the weather the flight had to be cancelled. Thanks anyway, John.

The biggest thanks to the Santa Committee of the Canton Chamber. They are: Joel Clark, Chairman, Cathy Foege, Rose Fowler and Al Zelek. Without their efforts, the event wouldn't have been so nice.

We hope we haven't missed anyone. If we did, thank you.

reflections

What children will say

Art Linkletter was always my favorite radio personality during those long ironing sieges that were a part of the joy of motherhood.

I used to howl with glee while holding the iron up in the air when some little kid would tell Linkletter things about his family that would have been left better unsaid, and when the program moved from radio to TV, my ironing board went from laundry room to living room, so that I wouldn't miss anything.

I remember one of the stories which made me laugh the hardest, and that was the story of the little kid who said he wanted to be a preacher when he grew up, 'just like daddy.'

Linkletter asked him what his dad did all day long and the little one said: "He talks Christians into becoming Methodists."

I probably remember that story the best because it was shortly after I had heard it that one of my own little kids came running in one day, hollering, "Mom, Mom, I don't have to be Catholic, do I? I can be a 'pispalian, can't I?'"

Whipping off the peanut butter from around his mouth I sat him up on the table, and said, "Sure you can be a 'pispalian. Who said you had to be Catholic?"

"Jimmy said I had to be Catholic or I couldn't go to heaven," and he took an apple out of the bowl and began to chomp on it.

"Oh sure, you'll get to heaven," I told him, taking the apple away to wash off the germs. "God loves little boys."

Wrapping his grin around his clean apple he jumped off the table and rejoined his friend.

"Pispalians can, too, go to heaven," he said as they jumped off the porch and went out to find something else to fight about.

But that wasn't the end of the question. The next morning this little kid told me of a dream he had which had proven that God wasn't Catholic. He had dreamed, he said, that he had gone to heaven and God had met him and took him all over heaven.

"And that's how I know he isn't Catholic?"

"How do you know that?" I asked.

"Cause he didn't have no black robe on," he answered.

Art Linkletter made a fortune on showing how little kids view the world. And I thought of Art Linkletter fondly the other evening as my family gathered around the crackling fire for a good family gab-fest after a good family Thanksgiving dinner.

That is when my daughter-in-law told me how her father had taken her oldest little kid out for a walk one day. My grandson's maternal grandfather is a nature lover, and he took the little guy out into a wooded area, and they saw hornet's nests hanging from the treeless branches... abandoned and forlorn. And my grandson's other grandpa told the little kid about how the queen bee stays in the hive while the other bees go out and find pollen for the making of honey.

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

"And then, finally, as the season is over," Grandpa said, "the queen stays in the hive for the winter while all the other bees die."

"Why?" asked the curious little kid.

"They have finished their work," Grandpa replied.

"How do they die?"

Grandpa got a bit fancy at that one. He told the boy that the bees got so tired with all that winging back and forth, back and forth, that at last, as the flowers die, the wings of the bees become so tired they just drop off and the bees couldn't get back home, so they die.

My grandson pondered this for awhile, and then he looked up into his grandfather's face and asked, "If their wings fell off why didn't they just walk home?"

MONA GRIGG

Dorothea Dix or Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell.

When I was a kid in school Andrew Jackson was the good guy and the Indians were the bad guys. No one ever talked, in our classrooms, about broken treaties or death marches to the Oklahoma territory that rivaled modern-day Bataan. The way we heard it, the reservations were wonderful, happy places. No one ever saw fit to mention to us that the reason the Indians were there was because our "heroes" decided to kick them off of their own land.

And when I was a kid in school Joseph McCarthy was hailed as a hero for getting rid of the subversives and the "Pinkos". No one told us, then, about the pain and suffering he caused thousands of innocent people. No one ever told us about demagogues of the American variety.

And, of course, we never thought to ask.

Schools: Better now or then?

When I was a kid in school the principals were always men. One of them—Mr. DeLisle—the biggest, meanest man who ever lived—used to tell us that the way to remember how to spell "principal" was to remember that he was "a prince of a pal".

A cornball statement like that coming from someone who worked so hard at being the biggest, meanest man alive isn't something you're likely to forget.

When I was a kid in school, teachers didn't have first names or lives outside of school. They were almost always women and there was no such thing as a pregnant teacher.

If a teacher happened to find herself in that condition, she disappeared while her clothes still fit and reappeared again, a year later, answering questions like, "Miss Allen, Miss Allen, did you really have a baby?" with, "Yes, I did. Now, where were we?" (All female teachers were called "Miss" then, no matter what. When you think about it, "Miss" was the "Ms" of it's day.)

When I was a kid in school there were no disputes between parents and teachers. When the teacher invited the parents in to "discuss" something, the parents knew before they even went in there that they were going to leave with their tails between their legs. The teacher, after all, had been to college. She was right. That was it.

When I was a kid I went to nine different schools before I finally settled down in the ninth grade and stayed in that one last school to the bitter end.

Along the way, I went to schools in the country, to inner-city schools, to parochial schools, to brand-new suburban schools.

There was little difference, in any of them, in the way things were taught. There were only so many textbooks, after all, and Dick and Jane and Spot followed me everywhere I went.

Some of the schools, like the ones I went to in what is now called inner-city Detroit, were beautiful. They had enormous, wide hallways and big, sunny classrooms; romantic, dark libraries (with real, working fireplaces) and glassed-in "conservatories".

But even in the inner-city schools smack in the middle of neighborhoods where black people lived and where black children came to be educated—even there, the only mention of black heroes was when we talked about George Washington Carver doing 300 great things with peanuts.

No mention of the fact that he had been a professor at Tuskegee Institute and a fellow in the Royal Society of Arts in London—an honor not given to many Americans.

No mention, either, of Sojourner Truth or Frederick Douglass or Dred Scott.

The same was true for American heroines of the female persuasion. There were, of course, the president's wives—courageous ladies who stood by their husbands' sides through whatever thick and thin their men found themselves in the middle of.

And there was Pocahontas, and there was Betsy Ross... but no one ever mentioned Susan B. Anthony or Margaret Sanger or

Wonders of the Universe

*If you understood the workings
Within a grain of sand,
The knowledge of the universe
Would be in your command.
You need not wander far away
To solve the mystery.
The answer lies within your grasp wherever you may be.
Your standing at the end of time
And at the start as well,
For the alpha and omega
Are in every living cell.
The grandeur that seems far away
That sparkles in the night,
Is looking back to where you are
And sees a brighter light.
No two mortals are the same
On the globes of any star.
The wonder of the Universe
Is no greater than you are.*

Cigarettes may cost area woman stint in jail

Cigarette smoking is a costly habit, and a Garden City woman may have to pay much more than she expected when she strolled into a Romulus gas station to pick up a few packs.

According to Romulus Police, the woman, Denise Alice Howard, 30, entered a local gas station on the pretext that she wanted to purchase a bottle of pop and candy.

After approaching the gas station employee inside the building, Ms. Howard however decided to grab several cartons of cigarettes, according to police. She then bolted from the building and jumped into a car driven by Willie Wimberly of Inkster.

The gas station employee managed to get a partial license plate number and phone the information to the police.

Officer Dave Bush pulled the vehicle over in the Henry Ruff and Ecorse area. Seconds later Det. Sgt. Dave Early and police officer Sam Chalton arrived at the scene.

Ms. Howard and Wimberly were taken into police custody. Wimberly, an Inkster resident, was charged with several traffic violations, while Ms. Howard faces charges of larceny from a building which carries a 4-year jail sentence if convicted.

'The Inconvenience' to perform at Veteran's Hospital

Sumpter Township's "The Inconvenience" is preparing for their performance at the Veterans Hospital in Allen Park. The group, which mimes popular songs, will be on stage at 6:45 p.m. on Tues., Dec. 14.

Included in the program are performers Vickie Barns, Mike Hartwick, William Chizmar, James McCloskey, Lloyd McClure and Larry Vitale.

"We really enjoy performing our numerous songs and dance skits," said McClure, "and we're willing to play at different benefits and for different organizations."

'Pop Rock' concert at Romulus High

The Romulus Varsity Softball Team is sponsoring a "Pop Rock Concert" at 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. Thurs., Dec. 16 in the Romulus High School Auditorium.

The program will feature two professional bands, "Chance" and "Alliance". "Alliance" has recently toured with Loverboy and Rick Springfield and they also were in concert with Joan Jet and The Blackheads.

Tickets are $5 and are on sale at the high school or they may be purchased from Fred Coleman and Henry James at the high school.

Ticket sales are limited to the first 800.

TOOTHACHE OR TENDER TEETH

There's a world of difference between a toothache and tender teeth. Occasionally, some people will experience the discomfort of a tooth that has suddenly become hypersensitive. It hurts when you sip a hot or cold drink, such in cold air, or eat foods that are sweet or sour or acidic. This happens more often to children because their teeth are more sensitive.

Usually, the tooth is tender only for a short time. The sensitivity soon goes away. But not when someone has a toothache. This can begin like the tender tooth syndrome, when eating hot or cold foods or when you are chewing vigorously. But the toothache doesn't go away. It stays and becomes worse, until you get the treatment you need. The pain becomes intense. The jaw begins to swell up and you may experience fever. This usually means an abscess has formed in the affected tooth. Decay has eaten through the pulp and infected the gums and hard tissues. There may be a pocket of pus around the root.

Don't waste any time in getting help from your dentist. He can stop the pain, treat the tooth, and save it with prompt treatment.

Surprise band visit lifts Wayne student's spirits

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Tom Wichowski is a lucky guy. Last month the 15-year-old sophomore at Wayne Memorial High survived delicate surgery on a pituitary tumor in the brain. He also discovered the meaning of friendship in the process.

On the morning he was to report to Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, Tom awakened to find a crowd of familiar faces outside his Westland home. There, on the front lawn in all their splendor, stood the Wayne Memorial Marching Zebras band.

To his astonishment the band promptly serenaded their friend with the sounds of "On You Zebras" (the school fight song) and "Rock Around the Clock," one of Tom's favorite tunes.

Tom, who plays the clarinet in the band, was understandably moved. More importantly, that early morning performance helped prepare him for what would be a traumatic experience.

"It gave me confidence," recalled Tom, now recuperating from successful surgery. "My mom knew they were coming but I didn't — it sure surprised me. I was kinda down about having to get my head shaved and everything. Then I saw them (the band) and it gave me a weird feeling... it was nice. They're a great bunch."

Tom's mother, Joan Wichowski, also has fond memories of that musical show of support.

"Those kids were behind him 105 percent," she pointed out. "Seeing them there gave Tom an emotional uplift, he was taken aback by it."

"The neighbors thought it was beautiful too, even if it was only 7:30 in the morning," she added with a laugh.

According to Mrs. Wichowski, Tom's prospects for complete recovery are excellent since doctors feel that the entire tumor has been removed. Tom had undergone similar surgery a year ago to correct the extremely serious problem, which could have led to blindness.

"Everybody in the band is family," said Band Director Richard Grzesik, trying to explain the reason for the special performance. "We simply were taking care of one of our own. Looking back on it, I'm surprised somebody didn't call the police considering what time it was."

Grzesik estimated that 95 percent of the band's 104 members participated in the unusual concert.

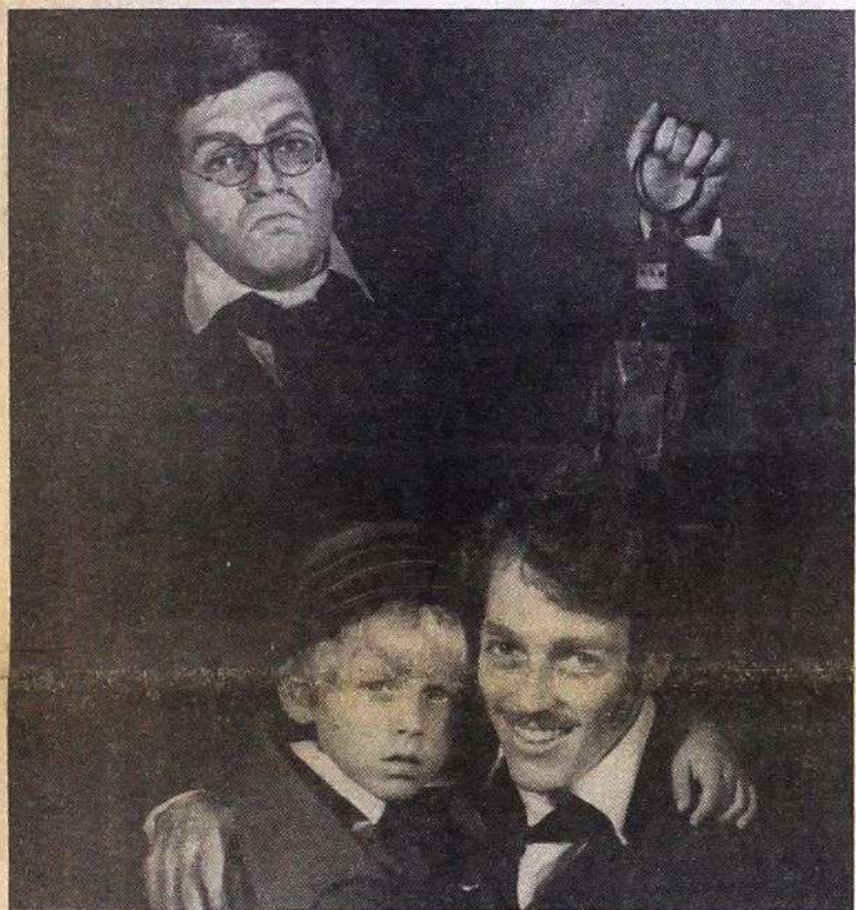

Aided by tutoring at his home, Tom is expected to return to school in January. Through the ordeal of surgeries and physical ailments he

Members of the Wayne Memorial Marching Zebras paid a surprise visit last month at the home of fellow band member Tom Wichowski, who was preparing for surgery to remove a brain tumor. The band played a couple songs for their friend and then raised him to their shoulders as a sign of their emotional support. Following the special tribute performed on his front lawn, Wichowski survived the successful surgery and is expected back in school in January.

Robert Lambert (right), a graduate of Romulus High School, will portray Bob Cratchit in the Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre production of 'A Christmas Carol.' Charles Dickens' traditional holiday classic will be performed through Dec. 19 with Thomas Sizemore Jr. (top) as Ebenezer Scrooge and Paul Sizemore as Tiny Tim. Ticket information can be obtained by calling 577-2960.

Romulus man stars in play

Robert Lambert, a graduate of Romulus High School, will appear in Charles Dickens' classic 'A Christmas Carol,' set for performances through December at the Bonstelle Theatre on the Wayne State University campus.

Curtain times are 8 p.m. Dec. 10, 11, 17 and 18 and 2 p.m. for matinees Dec. 9, 12, 15 and 19.

Perhaps Dickens' most famous work, 'A Christmas Carol' includes some of his best remembered characters: Ebenezer Scrooge, Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim. Lambert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Lambert of Romulus, will portray Cratchit.

The play takes place on Christmas Eve. (See PLAY, Page B-3)

Cub Scout meeting reviewed

A skit on the greatest invention of all time highlighted the November meeting of Cub Scout Pack 724.

The meeting, which opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and brief remarks by Den Leader Laveda Sanders, was followed by Den 5's skit, which included Scouts Mike Browne, Art Quinones and Dan Borlaza.

Awards were then presented by Cubmaster Bill Graham to Den 1 members Allen Dunlap, one silver arrow point; William Sharp, Glen Lance, Greg Wheatly, Gary Wiebe, Mike Nalli and Dan Szabo, Bobcat patches; Jason McBain, Wolf patch and Dan Willis, Matt Pride, Jamie Dobrowolski and Tim Jeffers, Webelo scarf and colors.

In Den 2 awards went to Frankie Roland, Bobcat patch and pin and flag; and Mike Carlington, Eddie Knapp, Bobby Schurig, Jason Powell, Carl Shelton, Nick Mizgala and Tony Hill, flag.

In Den 3 awards were presented to Jack Moss and Danny Johnson, Webelo scarf and colors and Chris (See SCOUT, Page B-2)

TOM VERLAINE

Prime time Television

TELEVISION
"The Blow Up"
(ROIR cassette)

The latest of ROIR's cassette-only releases is a gem: 85 minutes of primal Television featuring guitarists Tom Verlaine and Richard Lloyd at their warped-vision best.

For those who don't know, Television was among the first—if not the first—of the New York bands that played regularly at CBGB's and were labelled "punk." Not punk, as in the Sex Pistols et. al, but as in different. It was Verlaine and Patti Smith and the Ramones that influenced the British bands to say and play what they meant, not what they were expected to.

Stories of Verlaine's guitar prowess circulated in the rock press, likening him in a way to the Grateful Dead's Jerry Garcia. Not stylewise, but in intensity. While powering through a fifteen-minute solo, Verlaine (it was said) often lost touch with reality through the music. As he played beautiful riffs to the screaming delight of the crowd, Verlaine would be standing there, eyes closed, with snot dripping off his nose. Now, the way I see it, if you're standing on stage with your eyes closed and snot dripping off your nose, you'd BETTER BE GOOD!

And good he was (still is, for that matter). On the fifteen-plus minute version of the N.Y. classic "Little Johnny Jewel," you can almost see the snot dripping. It is this song that perhaps tells the most about Verlaine's influences. As Robert Christgau points out in the liner notes, Verlaine's lyrics right before the solo "And then he loses his senses" are straight out of the John Coltrane school of music.

Since Television was essentially Verlaine's group, Richard Lloyd's brilliant guitar musings are often just used as a backdrop for you-know-who. It's a shame, because Lloyd's fantastic solo LP, "Alchemy," shows him to be one of the greats with an intrinsic sense of melody to boot (look for it in the cut-out bins for $1.99 or so). Only on "Satisfaction" does he really cut loose in the wildest sense, and it's fittingly the last song on the tape, because it's a hard act to follow.

Band visits a friend

(Continued from Page B-1) has amazed both his family and friends by maintaining his sense of humor and positive attitude. Of course, his family and friends have provided a healthy share of support. "He'll never forget that morning," Mrs. Wichowski declared. "They're beautiful kids."

Tom Wichowski is a lucky guy indeed.

Local man in 'Christmas Carol'

(Continued from B-1) when the miserly Scrooge is visited by four spirits. The spirit of his late partner Jacob Marley, with the assistance of the ghosts of Christmas Past, Present and Future, moves the cold-hearted Scrooge to change his "Bah-Humbug!" attitude and to honor the spirit of Christmas. Tickets are available at the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, Cass and Hancock in Detroit (577-2960).

NCAA BASKETBALL. Iowa at UCLA. Dick Enberg and Al McGuire report.

4PM-7 CBS (3 Central/Mountain)

NFL/Interconference. It will almost seem like a homecoming as the Rams return to Los Angeles, the city whose name they still (however inappropriately) bear though they fled south to Anaheim. Awaiting them in the huge expanses of the Coliseum will be the new tenants, the Los Angeles (nee Oakland) Raiders.

"I can only speak from my own standpoint, but I think that to some degree I'm a masochist about it. I almost enjoy hitting someone and at the same time maybe hurting myself a little bit. Maybe I have tremendous guilt feelings about something. I'm not sure. But I think a number of football players are the same way."

— PAUL MARTHA, former NFL defensive back who, as an independent attorney, was instrumental in resolving the recent players strike.

SportLite on Merlin Olsen

"During the game, I get caught up in the feeling of action, in the intensity and movement and being a part of what's happening on that field. As soon as I walk off the field I have this tremendous letdown, this tremendous emotional release, just like coming down off the clouds." — MERLIN OLSEN

Former All-Pro Defensive Lineman Merlin Olsen is probably back in the clouds despite his retirement five years ago. On February 12, 1983, he will add yet another honor when the Walter Camp Football Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the perpetuation of the ideals espoused by Camp, ex-Yale coach and "father of American football", designates him Man of the Year at the Foundation's annual dinner at New Haven, Connecticut's Yale Commons.

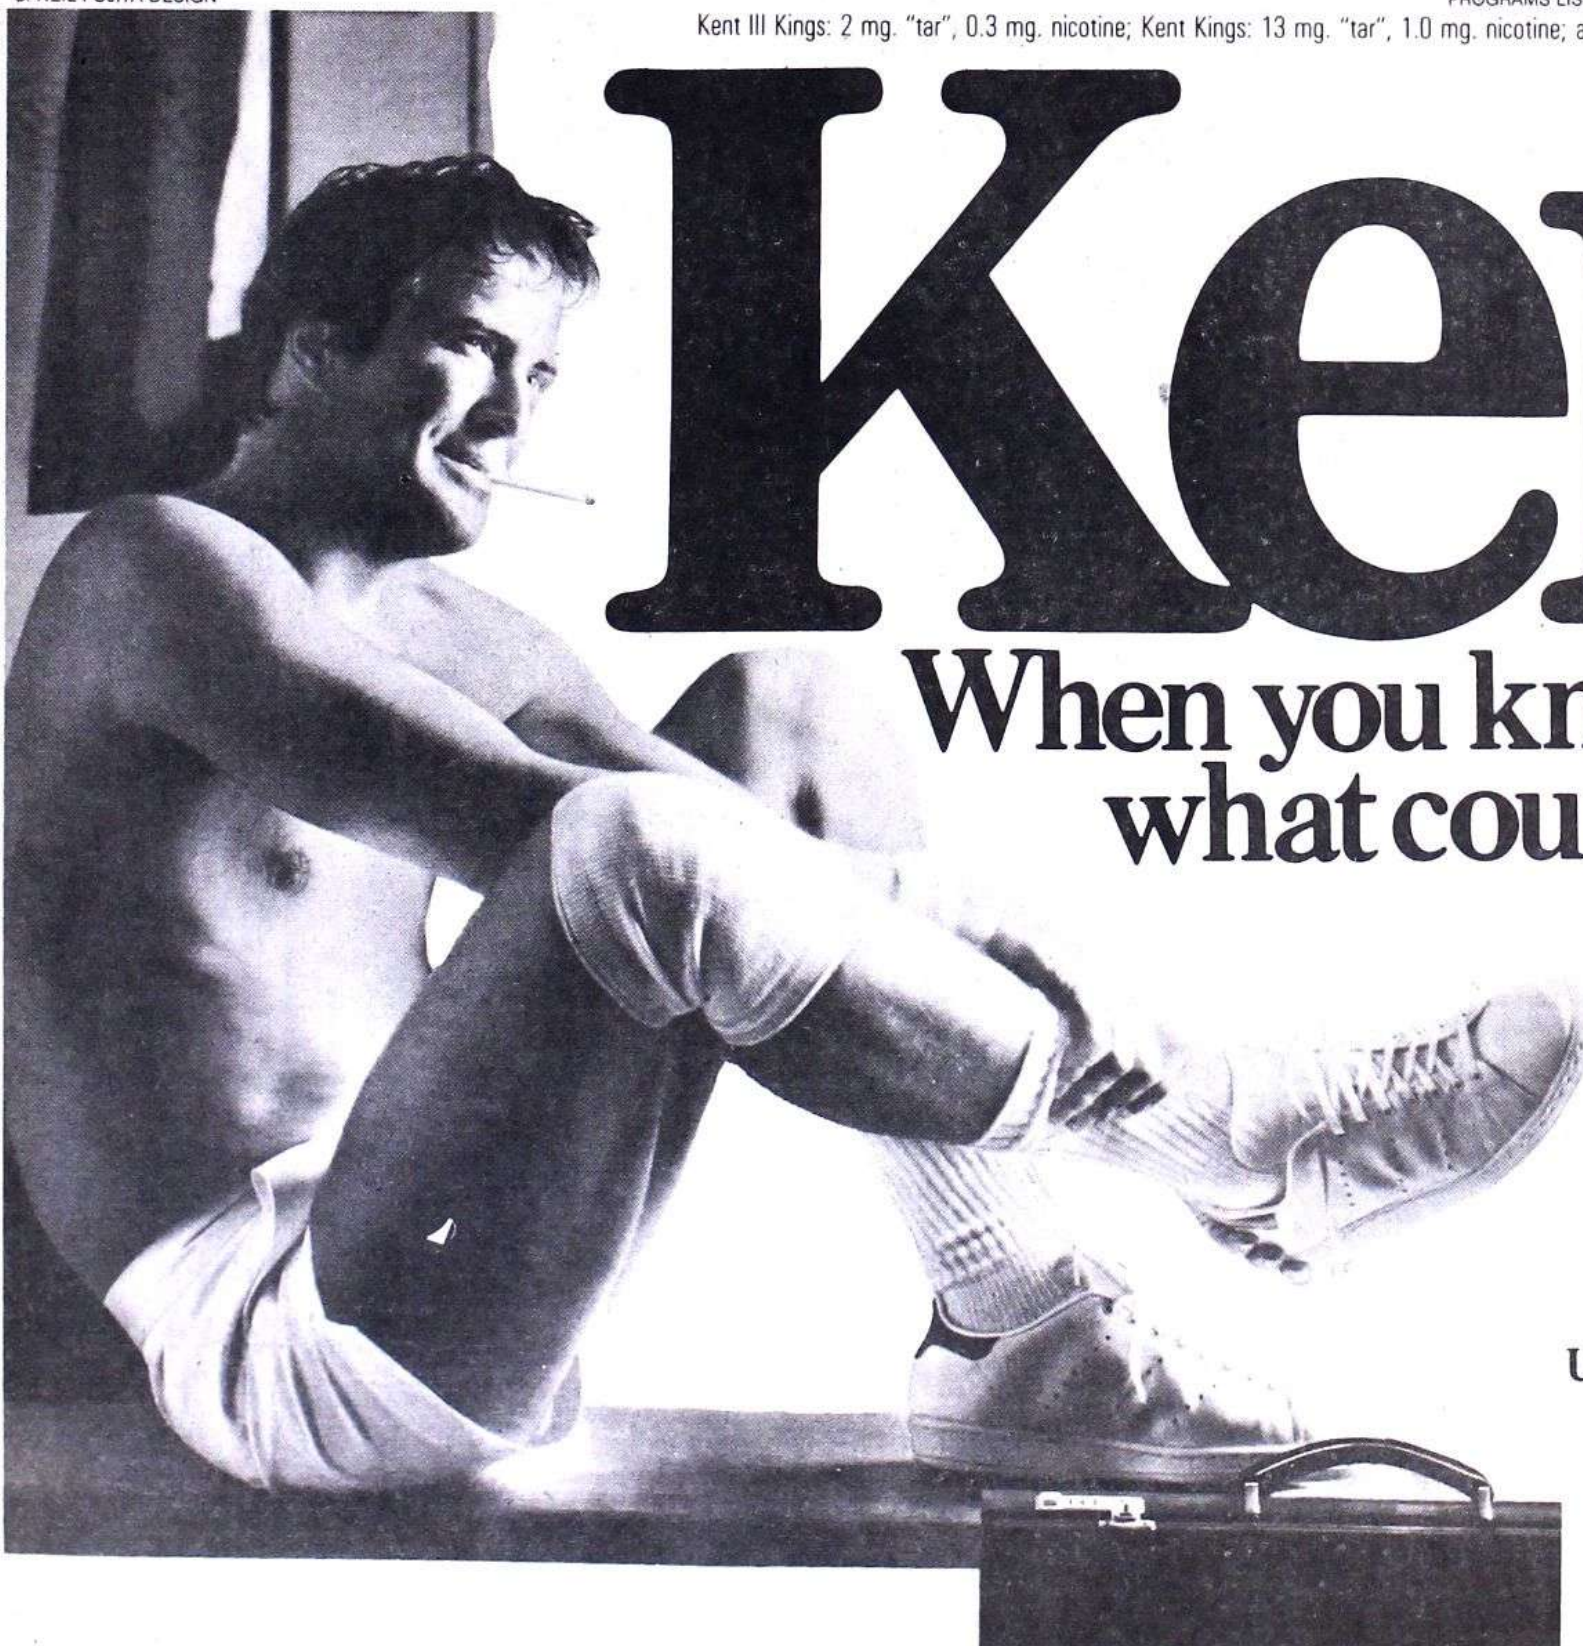

Olsen, who retired from the NFL in 1977, has been doubling as an NBC gridiron commentator and an actor in the title role of the popular Father Murphy television series when he's not thundering about the countryside collecting accolades.

Morins, Schultzs mark golden anniversaries

Belleville residents for over 45 years, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Morin marked their golden wedding anniversary at a celebration Nov. 20 planned and hosted by their proud children and grandchildren: Loren, Lorraine, John, Henry Jr., Gary, Betresha, George, Goldie and David. All are married and with the exception of three, live within 10 miles of Belleville. Gary makes his home in Howell; Betresha in East Jordan and George in Hunlock, Pa. The Morins also have 26 grandchildren and one great-grandchild on their family tree with another due this month.

Henry J. Morin and Hazel M. Lavanway spoke their nuptials vows on Nov. 19, 1932 at the Holy Family Church of Flat Rock in Gladstone, Mich.

Still residing at 191 Clarence Street, Mr. Morin is a retired brick mason who helped build the new auditorium at Belleville High School as well as many other schools and places of worship in the community. Retiring due to ill health in 1971, he now spends his time writing and planting trees.

Mrs. Morin, who worked as a licensed practical nurse for 20 years, retiring from Annapolis Hospital, now spends her time cooking and doing needlework. The Morins recently sold some of their property in the city so that young people in high school could learn a trade by building houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schultz of Sibley Road, Romulus, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Nov. 27 at a dinner and olde-tyme square dance.

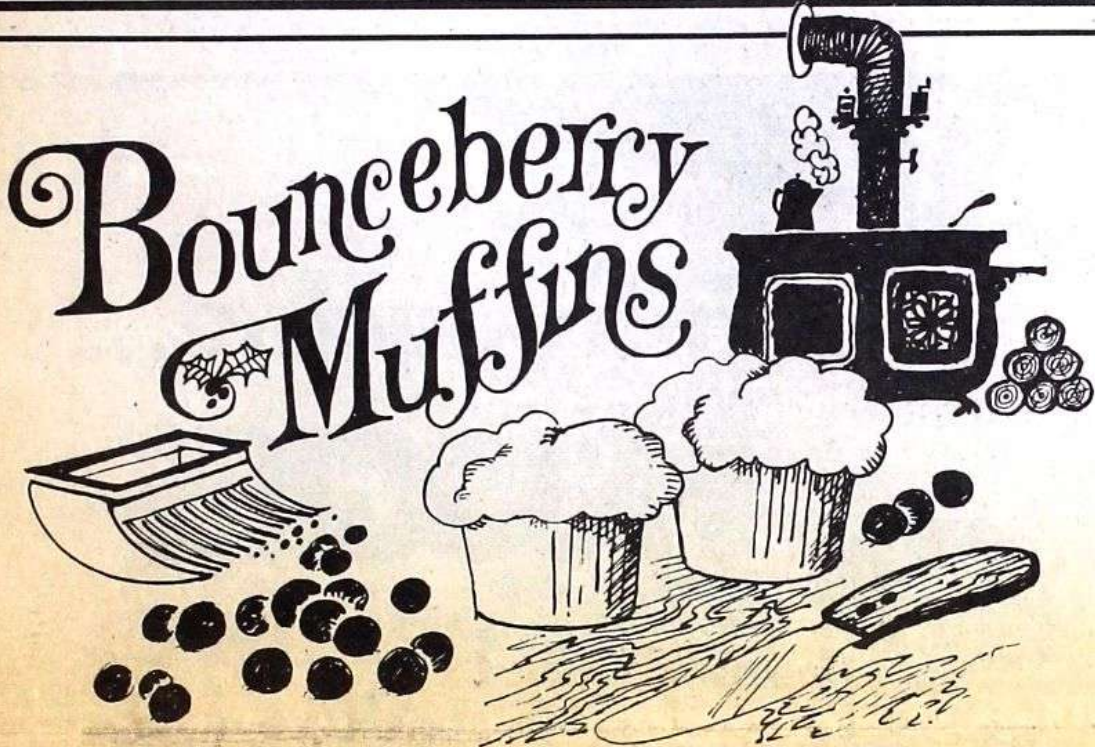

Held at the Romulus VFW Hall, the event was hosted by the couple's only child, Marlene Lewis of Romulus. Among the many friends and relatives attending were Otto's best man, Henry Lukofsky and his wife from Taylor; Emma's uncle, Walter Sietloff of Taylor, who was marking his 90th birthday that same day; and Otto's cousin, Joe Bader and his wife, who traveled from Englewood, Fla. for the occasion.

The Schultzs were united in marriage on the day before Thanksgiving, Nov. 23, 1932. Besides their daughter, their family includes two grandchildren, Sandy Oaks of Eagleville, Pa. and Duane Lewis of Romulus.

The couple has served the community in various ways with Emma belonging to the Ladies Aid at St. Paul's Lutheran Church for some 44 years. Otto was a school board member for 10 years and supervisory employee of the Ford Motor Company for 44 years before retiring. Both have been members of St. Paul's Church all their married life.

A New Variation on a Holiday Theme!

They're a beautiful, bright red holiday tradition that come in four shapes: cherry, olive, bugle and bell. Their delicious tart flavor is great for sauces, baked goods and beverages — but they can also be used for medicine, or to dye fabrics. What are they? Caccinium marocarpus, called "bounceberries" by our pilgrim forbearers because they have a healthy bounce when they are ripe and ready to enjoy.

These colorful little berries, today enjoyed as cranberries, were first discovered flourishing in the sandy bogs of Cape Cod by the early settlers. Indians taught the new arrivals that cranberries, a native of North America, had great value as food and as a dye. But most important, the settlers found cranberries a natural protection against Vitamin C deficiency and used them to survive the harsh New England winters.

Because they are most plentiful between September and January, cranberries have become synonymous with Thanksgiving and Christmas. Strands of the colorful fruit still garland many a festive tree. And cranberry sauce and jelly are virtually inseparable from the holiday turkey.

Although cranberries remain a seasonal favorite, modern marketing encourages year-round enjoyment of the cranberry in an endless variety of recipes. This quick and convenient muffin recipe — made easier than ever before with Kraft's Squeeze Parkay Liquid Margarine — is an exciting new variation on your personal kitchen theme, at Christmastime or anytime of the year.

Cranberry Muffins

¾ cup milk
½ cup Squeeze Parkay Liquid Margarine
1 egg
2 cups flour
½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 10-oz. pkg. frozen cranberry-orange relish, thawed, drained

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Combine milk, margarine and egg. Add combined dry ingredients: mix only until moistened. Stir in relish. Pour into greased medium-size muffin pan, filling each cup ¾ full. Bake at 425 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from pan immediately.
12 muffins.

Newcomers on the scene

Charles Anton Tkachuk

"It's a boy!" is the news that went out recently to friends and relatives of Charles Anton and Lynn Ann Tkachuk of 51301 Huron River Dr., Belleville, when their first child, a son, arrived on Oct. 18.

The newcomer bowed in at 9:17 p.m. at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne where his weight was registered at 7 lbs. - 1 oz. and his length at 20½ inches.

Titled "Charles Anton", the infant is the new grandson of Agnes Tkachuk and Ruth Winton, both of Belleville, and Earl Lickman of Westland. Earl Lickman Sr. of Gladwin is the proud great-grandfather.

The new mother is the former Lynn Ann Lickman.

Gabriel Jackson Keelan

"Gabriel Jackson" is the name chosen by Jack and Micky Keelan of 48825 Hull Rd., Belleville, for their first child born Nov. 23, two days before Thanksgiving.

The new heir, who put in his appearance at 6:15 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, weighed in at an even eight pounds and measured 21 inches.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Keelan of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Alfonzo Martignoni of Brazil, South America.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is available to all those wishing to announce the birth of their children or grandchildren born in this area or elsewhere. We ask only that there be some connection with Belleville, Romulus, New Boston and the outlying townships. Former residents are invited to send news of their additions as well.)

C. Barlage new NSPT vice-prez

Catherine A. Barlage, RT (R), of 48528 Sully Drive, Belleville, was recently installed as second vice-president of the Michigan Society of Radiologic Technologists at the 27th Annual Convention in Traverse City.

Mrs. Barlage has been an active participant of the MSRT at both the state and local levels including her concurrent appointment as Eastern Michigan Counselor for the American Society of Radiologic Technologists.

Currently Mrs. Barlage is a Radiologic Technologist II at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Ann Arbor, working in radiation therapy.

Mr. and Mrs. Margarito Garcia of Tecumseh are announcing the engagement and summer wedding plans of their daughter, Marta J. Garcia, and Ronald L. Box of Belleville.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Landy W. Box of Belleville, the prospective bridegroom is employed by General Motors.

St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Tecumseh has been reserved for the young couple's June 25, 1983 wedding.

MISS GARCIA

Quotes worth quoting . . .

"When I was 16, I thought my parents knew nothing. When I was 21, I was shocked to discover how much they had picked up in the last five years."

Winston Churchill said it.

potpourri

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

Fellow procrastinators will find it unbelievable, neatniks will respond with "About time!", friends will think I'm hallucinating and my family will faint when I admit to having cleaned up by "act" — the great paper-caper.

W-e-l-l, would you believe part of it? (And, no "Y," I did not throw out the old magazines!) Remember the paper problem I expounded on in an earlier "potpourri"? I finally got to it the other day.

With the distaff side of the family already asking what they could bring for Christmas dinner, I decided to sit down and make out my holiday "lists." I'm crazy about lists! That's cuz I feel so smug just crossing off one little line. You can see I get my jollies in the strangest ways.

The category "Bake" has the longest column starting with the old tried-and-trues — Peanut Blossoms, Devilsfood Fudge Drops, Russian Tea Cakes to name but a fourth of their counterparts. Following are a few newcomers about to get the ol' pre-Christmas test — Nutty Pudding Bars, Pecan Turtles, Cheesy Vanilla Fudge Bars.

Under "Do" I have gentle reminders to: finish shopping, mail packages, decorate, wrap gifts, address and mail cards and similar fun activities with which you're all familiar.

Trees, stamps, outdoor lights, candy for jars, and the like take up starter space below "Buy."

"Menus" for the holiday weekend came next and everything fell nicely into place as I pulled out the matching recipe cards from my shoebox file so I could follow up with a grocery list. But, lo and behold, that wonderful, nothing-like-it Apple Kuchen turned up missing.

And thereby lies the incentive for gathering up all the envelopes, folders, napkin holders and paper-weighted mounds of — recipes — whole pages from magazines; tiny clippings from newspapers; odd swatches from cereal and cocoa boxes and thin slinky patches from candy bags, stuffing containers, pasta cartons, flour sacks.

I scoured through that recipe box, checking each category (and there are 27) all the while trying to recall if it (A.K.) was even on an index card. After checking cookbook indexes for a possible "twin," I then attacked those mountains of miscellanea, hoping it would turn up somewhere in the "collection."

As long as you're this far into the mass (mess?), I told my less procrastinating self, why not —. So, hunching my shoulders and pulling up the stepstool, I began dissecting those tumorous growths, finding I had to clear the table completely to hold the individualized heaps — salads, soups, party foods, beverages, etc. About the time I'd created about a dozen stacks, the clock chimed the dinner-planning hour, BG walked through the door and the curtain fell on Act I.

Scene I of Act II came the following day as I rounded up and labeled enough file folders to constrain the masterpieces I'd soon produce ala Julia Child and Frank Beard.

Sorting through recipes, however, is akin to cleaning drawers and finding old letters or diaries — it ends up being a monumental reading session. I wanted to try so many of 'em right then and there — and did! A new hot fudge caught my fancy and turned out much thriftier to make than my old "pet." Proving to be a winner, the tiny clipping got pasted on an index card with the following jottings: boils over very unexpectedly, makes a pint and it's delicious!

With so many apples being neglected in the basement, it was only fitting that the title "Apple Pudding with Vanilla Sauce" would catch my eye. Minutes later I was turning out a rich molasses-y dessert and simple topping which was way too big for a twosome but oh, so right for freezing — and future noshing.

And my grandmother clock didn't have time to surprise me with its 5:30 warning since I'd already picked out a stir-fry cashew chicken dish to spring on BG that night. Again, too large for a duo but great for freezing for a future dinner.

The pile of recipes, you're asking? Oh! That pile of recipes. What happened to them? Why, they're all in their particular folders — on the table — just waiting for Act III and someone to file 'em away somewhere.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

An elderly gentleman complained to his doctor that he wasn't feeling well.

"I'm doing everything I can to help you," his doctor said. "You surely realize that I can't make you a young fellow again."

"I don't care about feeling young again," the man replied. "I just want to keep on getting older."

FOOD FACTS

- As many as 50 gallons of maple sap are needed to make a single gallon of maple sugar.
- Popcorn was introduced to the English colonists at their first Thanksgiving on Feb. 22, 1830, by Quadequina, brother of Indian Chief Massasoit.
- "Melba toast," paper thin slices of toasted bread, was invented by Opera Diva Madam Nellie Melba in 1901 and popularized by her fans.
- The great French chef Escoffier is credited with the invention of some 10,000 recipes.

SWEET TALK FROM "AGO"

AGAIN, WE USE those words but where did they come from? Being the season for sweets, we're referring to "marzipan" and "nougats." The two derive from a man's name and surprisingly from an exclamation of gratefulness.

Candy chronology, according to the National Confectioners Association, reveals that in 1671 a German chef, Franz Marzip of Brandenburg, purportedly made an almond paste dessert for the social group of the community.

Marzip's confection created such a demand that he returned to his native Lubeck and opened a factory for making, what else? Marzipan!

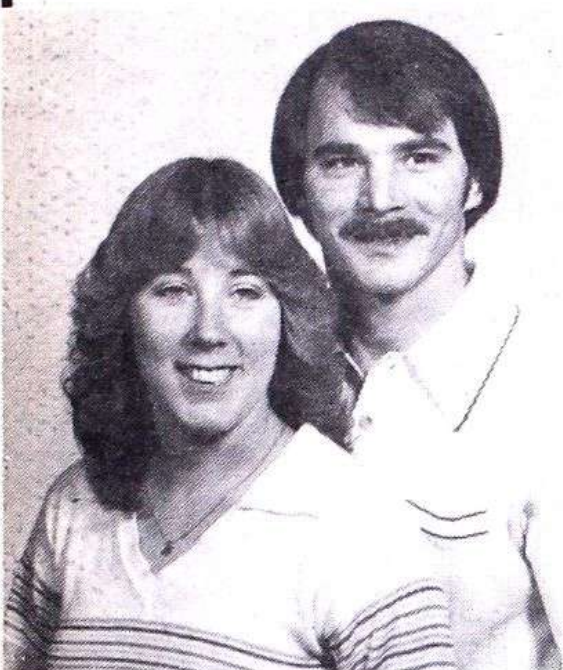

A generous elderly lady in the French village of Montelimar in the 18th century, is credited with the word "nougat." It seems she put together a sweet made of sugar, honey, fruits, nuts and eggs to give as holiday gifts to her friends and neighbors.

So appreciative were they that they thanked her with the phrase, "tu nous gâtes" (you spoil us!); hence the name "nougat" was forever attached to this tasty sweet.

THE BOTTOM LINE: When the Lord gave us the Ten Commandments, little did we realize how many laws we'd have to pass to obey them.

Romulus edges Bedford in cage debut

Wilkerson, Eagles have 'lady luck' on their side

Romulus High paid a high price for its narrow 70-67 basketball victory over a tough and zone defense minded Bedford Temperance Friday night.

Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles lost 6-6 forward Terry Mills early in the combat to an injury which could sideline the young and talented freshman. Mills, who scored four points and collected four assists in a span of two minutes, was quickly sidelined when he went up for a rebound and came down on his elbow.

"We've had doctors look at the injury," Coach Wilkerson said, "but right now we don't know the extent of the damage. He could miss a few games."

And with three tough ones lying ahead, Romulus can't afford to lose anyone this early in the campaign. Wilkerson has to face Ann Arbor Pioneer in Ann Arbor Friday night, then take on Flint Northern on Monday (Dec. 13) before hosting Highland Park, a perennial state Class A title contender.

"Obviously we have some tough teams in the next 10 days and we're looking forward to playing them," Wilkerson said. "And I believe this team can play with any in the state."

With Mills, a 6-6 freshman, the Eagles also put on the court as starters, center Grant Long, a relative of Johnny Long, former Romulus High, U of D and Detroit Piston star. Also at forward, teaming with Mills is junior 6-5, Shawn Perkins, who last week was named as an All-Area griddier.

Rounding out the line-up are point guard Terry Roache and 6-3 guard Kevin Baker, the only senior breaking into the otherwise junior-dominated line-up.

However, Romulus' height and board strength failed to impress the visiting Temperance quintet which established the early tempo in the game and shot to a 20-15 edge after the first period thanks to 6-5 center Dana Woodson, who pumped in 12 of his 27 points in the first 14 minutes.

"They didn't have any problems breaking our press and getting down the floor," Wilkerson noted. "And we played with too much emotion. One of the things we're going to have to learn is to settle down."

Although the two rivals exchanged 18 points in the second period and Romulus left the floor at halftime facing a 38-33 deficit, the Eagles came back fired up and outscored their visitors 23-7 in the third period with Baker, Long and Perkins leading the way.

It wasn't however until Kevin Stevenson sank both ends of an one-and-one with eight seconds left that Romulus sealed the opening night victory.

Baker finished with a team high 25 points, two shy of Woodson's 27 total. Long also was in double figures with 14 points while Roache chipped in with 12.

Bart Leu was the only other Bedford cager who hit in double figures. He had 22.

The Eagles had their problems at the free throw line where they managed to can only 18 of 30. They also had problems controlling the ball. They committed 18 turnovers.

"We made some crucial and mental mistakes like stepping in the lane," Wilkerson said, "But, I feel, as this team gained experience we're going to be tough to beat."

There's no doubt that Wilkerson has "lady luck" on his side this season. After three boys, the Wilkersons finally have a girl in the family. Renee Michele was born December 1, just in time for the basketball season. Rene's mother, Mary Beth, is also doing fine.

Glenn ekes out win over Rams

Led by seniors Greg Gill and Paul Grazulis, the Rockets of Westland John Glenn got the 1982-83 basketball season off on the right foot defeating a stubborn Taylor Center squad, 55-51.

It was no easy task for the Rockets, beginning their 19th season of basketball competition.

Both teams had trouble getting their acts together throughout the first quarter, but once both teams did, it was racehorse basketball the rest of the way.

Glenn took a 35-27 lead at half-time, keyed by the play of their new center, 6-8 Grazulis, who scored 8 points in the first half and 17 on the game and was a factor on the boards, and the play of sophomore guard Mike Baydarian, who accounted for 9 points.

But the Rams of Taylor Center refused to fold. They came streaking back to cut the lead to two points on several occasions led by their own 6-3 center, Jim Bilko, who tallied 17 points on the evening.

However, the Rockets would not fold either, as Greg Gill took control of the ball and the game in the waning moments of the contest, canning four free throws in the final minute and keeping the ball out of the Rams' hands.

Over 30 hockey

Hockey teams are really scoring high

Wayne-Westlander Over 30 skaters found the nets this week as high-scoring games were definitely on the increase and defenses fell apart.

Jake's Lounge skated to an 8-2 victory over Mic-Dago Pub as Dennis LaPensee led the team with three goals and two assists and Ken Beal rattled the net twice and picked up two assists.

Roger Wodgenske and Jay Middaugh each chipped in single tallies along with one assist. Tony Spada accounted for one goal.

Finishing with one assist were Paul Mayworm, Perry Toepfer, Dave Roberts and Jake Davidson. Mic-Dago's scoring went to Ron

Heading for a QB sack

Two former All-Area prep grid stars, Randy Pichan (upper left insert) of New Boston Huron quarterbacking fame, and Stan Snider of Plymouth earned accolades for their feats during the 1982 collegiate campaign as members of Grand Valley State College's team. Pichan was named "Most Valuable Player" on defense while Snider a tackle earned the "MVP" honor on offense. The two also joined teammates Randy Spangler, Jeff Chadwick Jeff Lynch and Gary Miklosovic as members of the Great Lakes All-Conference team. In the action shot, Pichan (87) flies in for a sack of Hillsdale College quarterback Pat Reipa, a game that Grand Valley dropped 24-19 but enhanced Pichan's credentials as one of the finest defensive ends in the conference. Pichan brought his collegiate career to an end and is looking forward to the professional draft.

DCC stops Tigers at South Lyon cage invitational

For three quarters Belleville High cagers gave state Class A powerhouse Detroit Catholic Central a run for its money at the South Lyon Classic Basketball Tournament.

Exchanging baskets equally the first two periods, the Tigers stayed within range of the Doughboys who had their problems with the speedy Tigers.

With Mike Mellon firing in 18 points to lead Belleville and teammate Steve Thornsberry chipping in 11, the outcome of the championship wasn't decided until midway in the third period when DCC build up a 10 point advantage. They protected it entering the finale frame.

Joining Mellon and Thornsberry in the double figure scoring column was Troy Thomas who accounted for 10 points.

The Detroiters received an outstanding effort from Jeff Maleske who tossed in 10 of his team's points.

In the first round of the tournament, Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers ousted the host, South Lyon 83-60 as the Tiger mentor managed to get all of his players into the lopsided battle.

Ahead 38-19 at the intermission, Belleville coasted to the opening game victory behind the balanced scoring and a stingy defense. Thomas connected on nine field goals for 18 points and sat out most of the second half, while Mellon contributed 14 points in the opener.

Wayne wins Belleville wrestling tourney

Claiming five gold medals and one silver, Wayne Memorial captured the 10-team Belleville High Invitational Wrestling Tournament staged last Saturday.

Coach Don Haney's Zebras picked up the gold thanks to the winning performances of Dave Davis (98), T.J. Harris (105), Dan Matauch (126), Joe Colaianne (138), Jim Erdman (145) and received a silver from 119-pounder Jeff Pangman.

Colaianne also was named the tournament's most valuable wrestler after pinning three of his opponents.

Wayne amassed 160 points for the first place trophy and was second to an improved Romulus team which garnered 121 points and finished second.

It's tournament time for local bowlers

By JIM WRUBLEWSKI

Now that the season has settled down to its normal routine an increasing number of tournaments are being held or are in the planning stages. Events are available for all categories of bowlers throughout the metropolitan area.

One example is the "700" tournament currently being held at Westland Bowl on weekends during December. This event is open to bowlers who have recorded a sanctioned 700 or better series. Scoring will be handled on a three game plus handicap format which gives all bowlers an opportunity to win, especially the lower average bowler that has experienced the thrill of breaking the 700 barrier.

Anyone interested should contact Bob Pniwski at Westland Bowl at PA 2-7570.

The final standings of the Mixed Doubles Tourney held at Town "N" Country Lanes resulted in some respectable scoring. The official results are: 1st Place - Richard & Eileen & Edward Broaddus, 1411; 3rd Place - Geri Weitlath & Dave Schwartz, 1409; and 4th Place - Michelle & Ed Burns, 1381.

Individual honors in several categories included: Men Hi Actual Game 175 Average and Up - G. Smith, 243; 174 Average and Under - Bob Hansen, 222; Ladies Hi Actual Game 150 Average and Up - Nicci Cuzzort, 227; 149 Average and Under - Mary Walakonis, 234; Men

Hi Handicapped Game 175 Average and Up - Don Plumb, 258; 174 Average and Under - Ed Burns, 267; Ladies Hi Handicapped Game 150 Average and Up - Karen Yates, 268; and 149 Avg. and Under - Eileen Broaddus, 277.

The Thanksgiving weekend was also the time for the 5th Annual Adult/Child Tourney at Westland Bowl. Eighty-two 2-person teams took to the lanes and Gary (662) and Garret (638) Nagle led the group with a 1355 total.

In regular scoring at Westland Bowl, John Hurley and Jim Jesson were ideal opponents when John rolled games of 258-264-239 for a 761 series and Jim kept pace with 224-267-267 for a 758. This type of shooting is not only exciting for the participants but is fun to watch as well.

Gary Henrick had a 278 game, there, while young and up-and-coming Brent Murch tallied 221-239-257 for 717, Rick Lang had a 279 game on his way to a 711; Dave Jackson hit 709, and, for the ladies, accurate and attractive Leandra Michalak totalled 625.

Fiesta Lanes scoring featured left-handed Bob Schmidt reaching perfection with a 300 game while filling in as a sixth man. Bill Donaldson had a 276; 122 average Jim Turner hit a 246; 143 average Tom Price had a 241; and on the ladies' side, N. Thomas totalled 561.

Town "N" Country leaders included Mike Harris with a 718; John Morton at 693; Dan Dauer with 675; and Vera Jarvis finished with a 630 for the Distaffers.

Wayne Bowl's stars this week were led by a 14 year old, Andy Laich, recording his first 200 game with a 208 and Ron Paddock converting the 6-7-10 split.

At Super Bowl the girls seem to stand out again in the crowd with Denise Chapman hitting 245; Hazel Praine, 243; and, for the very young bowlers, Tracy Lewis had a 200 and 240 on the way to a 611. Carl Thornton, at a 173 average, had games of 245-257-200 for a 702; Bobby Briggs also had a 702 which included a 232 and 287 game.

Senior Citizen action had Joe Seres shooting a 238; Walt Miller a 241 for 594; Everette Jensen with 236; and Joe Ogrod hitting a 221 game.

The leaders of the pack at Lodge Lanes this week included Phil Roberts with a 665; Doug Crawford, 278; Ted Briley, 267; and Adrienne Whittico paced the ladies with a 229 game, while Tammy Robertson went 90 pins over her average on a 186 game.

With the gift giving season of Christmas coming you might consider helping your loved ones achieve higher scores by presenting them with a properly fitted ball or a pair of their own bowling shoes. A ball of the correct weight and fit is invaluable for better bowling and gift certificates can be obtained at many area bowling centers and bowling pro shops where expert drilling can be done during the holidays.

Cosmos rules the Westland youth soccer world

The Westland Cosmos had a couple of good reasons to celebrate this season as they captured two titles in the Great Lakes Division II soccer league for boys 14 and under. They wrapped up the year with an 8-1-1 record and edged the Novi Sparks 8-2 for the fall championship and also won the Westland Round Robin Tournament, beating the Westland Hurricanes 5-1, then shutting out the Westland Hornets 5-0 in the Westland Youth Soccer League. Members of the cham-

Buckalew takes over from Lusk

Glenn begins new wrestling era

The end of an era didn't end a tradition at Westland John Glenn. Veteran wrestling coach Bob Lusk, who was the only head wrestling coach in Glenn's 19 year history, has bowed out of coaching the Rocket grapplers and his longtime assistant, Tom Buckalew, has taken over the tough assignment. "I've inherited an excellent wrestling program from Coach Lusk," Buckalew said, "and it will be difficult to follow in one's footsteps and fill his shoes. Bob has become a legend in his time." So have Glenn's wrestling teams which have captured 14 of the past 15 Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling titles. And the Rockets appear to be ready this year to continue that tradition as they have strung together five straight wins.

Glenn host to state champs

Some of the finest high school wrestling talent in the state will assemble this Saturday at Westland John Glenn to compete in the Rockets' annual invitational tournament.

Leading the 16-team field will be Bedford Temperance, the defending Class A state champ.

"Bedford traditionally fields outstanding teams," Coach Tom Buckalew, Glenn's head coach noted. "We expect to see some of the best grapplers in the state at this tournament."

Buckalew has been named to head the Glenn mat program, replacing longtime Glenn coach Bob Lusk who resigned after 19 years at the helm of the program. Buckalew served as Lusk's assistant.

Among the area teams which are expected to challenge Bedford for the tournament title are Birmingham Brother Rice, Mt. Clemens, Plymouth Salem, Wayne Memorial and John Glenn.

Duplessis awarded Albion grid letter

Albion College junior Gary Duplessis of Westland received a varsity letter for his participation on the 1982 Albion College football team.

Duplessis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Duplessis, 1019 Wood Burne, played at the middle guard position.

The Britons ended up the season with a 3-5-1 record overall and a 2-2-1 record in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association conference play. This record placed them in a tie for third place with Kalamazoo, behind first- and second-place Hope and Adrian, respectively.

"The season had its high moments and low moments," noted head coach Frank Joranko. "We had some outstanding individual performances, and were disappointed we didn't end up higher in the standings. However, considering the toughness of our schedule, our season was a promising one for the future."

Following, in order, were Belleville (115), Adrian (105), Saline (103), Plymouth Canton (102), Ann Arbor Pioneer (96), New Boston Huron (42) and Northville (26).

Belleville received outstanding efforts from veterans Brock Nigg and Joe Johnston who captured first place in the 132 and 167 pound classes, respectively. The Tigers were runner-up with Tony Sebastian (126), while they finished third with heavyweight Ron Rich.

The Tigers also received third place awards from Doug Chapman, a 185-pounder, and James Ritchey, at 112.

Applicants must have reliable transportation. Sales experience preferred but not necessary.

For appointment interview, please contact Sue Bachand, 729-4000.

RNs 8 West Rehabilitation/Spinal Cord Injury Unit

The University of Michigan Hospitals has increased beds and expanded its treatment services for patients requiring rehabilitation.

The General Rehabilitation component of the unit will treat patients who require intensive rehabilitation as a result of cerebro-vascular accident, traumatic brain injury, neuromuscular disorders and chronic pain syndromes. The Spinal Cord Injury component will treat patients during both the acute and rehabilitation phases of recovery. In addition to the physical care of patients, nurses concentrate on education and emotional support of patients and families.

8 West has an active commitment to a joint practice philosophy which enhances the comprehensive treatment of patients and creates a satisfying work environment. Best of all, however, nurses who work on 8 West have the opportunity to see the result of their professional efforts in the progress of their patients.

For more information please call or write: Nurse Employment Office:
